COLONIE DE LA COCHINCHINE.

CONTRIBUTIONS INDIRECTES.

Conformement aux dispositions arrêtées par le Conseil Colonial dans sa seance du 28 Decembre dernier,

Les personnes qui desireraient établir en Cochinchine des distilleries à appareils perfectionnes pour la transformation des riz et autres matières en alcools destines à l'exportation, devront faire parvenir leur demande en autorisation à l'Administration avant le 1er Septembre 1884, accompagnee des plans et indications propres à permettre d'apprecier l'importance et l'economie de l'établissement projeté.

La Concession aura lieu aux conditions suivantes:—

1°.—La distillerie devra etre établie à Saigon ou sur le territoire du 20me arrondissement. Tous les batiments seront construits en murs de briques, couverts en tuiles, attenant les uns aux autres et reunis dans une enceinte parfaitement close. Un logement convenable composé de deux pieces et des dependances necessaires y sera menagé pour le préposé de la Régie.

2°.—La fabrication et la sortie des alcools seront soumises au régime de l'exercise. Le concessionnaire devra se soumettre à tous les reglements pris par l'autorité locale pour la surveillance et le controle de cette industrie.

3°.—Pendant trois annees et jusqu'à concurrence de 2,000,000 de litres, quel que soit le nombre de établissements en exercice, la fabrication pour l'exportation sera exempte de tous droits dans la Colonie. Passé ce delai, ou une fois le chiffre deux millions de litres atteint, chaque hectolitre d'alcool exporté sera frappé d'un droit de cinquante cents en remplacement de l'impot foncier et pour couvrir les frais de surveillance.

4°.—Bien que les alcools fabriques dans ces distilleries soient specialement destinés a l'exportation, le Concessionnaire pourra, au renouvellement des baux, concourir pour l'exploitation d'une ou plusieurs concessions pour la consommation dans l'interieur de la Colonie, en acquittant les droits et on se soumettant a la reglementation locale.

5°.—La distillerie devra être prête à fonctionner le 1er. Janvier 1885.

6°.—Le gerant devra etre agréé par l'Administration. [884

HONGKONG, MAY 26TH, 1884.

THE remarks of the Colonial Surgeon on the health of the Police Force during the past year call for special attention. The sickness among the members of the Force has during the past few years increased very seriously without any apparent cause. The admissions to Hospital, Dr. AYRES tells us, in 1883 showed an increase over 1882 of 50 and over 1881 of 101, although the strength of the Force had only been augmented by thirty-four as compared with the latter year. This increase is not confined to one branch of the Police; it is shown in each of the three contingents; though most markedly among the Europeans. It cannot be accounted for, the Colonial Surgeon points out, by the general health of the colony having deteriorated, for this is not the case; and it is not ascribable to any decline in the physique of the constables, for, as Dr. AYRES truly remarks, "a finer set of men than the European Police in Hongkong could hardly be found anywhere." The sickness among the Force therefore must be due to some exceptional causes, and it is desirable these should be carefully considered by the Government with a view, if remediable, to take steps to reduce it. The Police quarters are not in a bad sanitary condition; at all events they are no worse than they were in 1874, and the men are well fed and well and suitably clothed for the climate. No doubt Dr. AYRES has hit the right nail on the head in expressing the opinion that the real reason for the increased sickness among the Police is in the longer hours of duty to which they are subjected, and especially to the longer hours of exposure to malarial influences when on night duty. The hours of duty were, it may be remembered, lengthened by Sir JOHN POPE HENNESSY after the occurrence of the Wing Lok Street outrage, in 1878. It is difficult to see how any reduction of the hours of night duty is to be made without increasing the strength of the European contingent, to which objection would be raised on the score of cost, but six hours at a stretch at night is a long spell of duty for Europeans in this climate, especially in summer. The Colonial Surgeon makes no suggestion on the subject; he probably considers that his duty ends when pointing out the evil. It is the province of the executive to find the remedy, if it be discoverable. It is of the highest importance that the streets and roads should be efficiently and strongly patrolled at night. Past experience has enforced the necessity of this precaution, and no relaxation of vigilance in this respect can be thought of. There are always plenty of lawless characters in the Colony, and if for the time they are perdu we may be certain that they only want opportunity for the display of their activity for mischief. Indeed at the present moment there is more occasion than usual for the exercise of a keen watch over the criminal and loafing classes. There will soon, in consequence of the conclusion of the difficulty between France and China, be large numbers of disbanded troops in Canton and its neighbourhood and numbers of unemployed labourers who have been engaged on the fortifications up the Pearl river. Many of these men—not of the most peaceful type—will, when dispersed, probably pay Hongkong a visit, and the ranks of the idle and vicious in this city will be sure to find reinforcement from among these braves and coolies. There are also probably not a few refugees from the Kwei-shin district, who had to quit that neighbourhood on account of being involved in some measure in the recent rising there. All these persons will gravitate naturally to Hongkong, both for security and in the hope of obtaining work. If they fail in the latter expectation they may swell the Ishmaelitish army which is continually contending with the authorities, and setting the law at defiance. For these reasons it would certainly be unwise if not absolutely unsafe to attempt any reduction of the hours of night duty of the Police unless it could be managed by some arrangement for their readjustment. Nevertheless, the sickness shown by the Colonial Surgeon to prevail among the Force, and more especially among the European contingent calls for inquiry, and will yet, we trust, lead to the Government devising some scheme whereby relief may be given to the constables without impairing the efficiency of the Force as the guardians of the public safety.

THE question of the excessive sizing of piece goods is again raised in the Trade Reports just issued by the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs. Mr. DREW, the Statistical Secretary, in his report on the foreign trade of China, says:—"I am informed that the falling off in the consumption of English Drills which, as is well known, has been going on, 'must be attributed to two causes: first, English manufacturers, doubtless as directed by their customers, gradually lowered the quality of 14-lb. Drills until it was in many cases a mere rag, one-half being China clay; second, at the same time American goods were being pushed into consumption by American houses, and being composed of pure cotton, they ousted their above-named rival.' At Shanghai, the deliveries of American drills in 1883 were greater than in any recent year excepting 1879 and 1881. It is probable that the diminished consumption of drills—i.e., all kinds together—as shown in the Returns has been compensated for to some extent by the noticeably large import of T-Cloths, i.e., that T-Cloths have been found preferable for some purposes to Drills, as the latter have been deteriorating. The import of Sheetings reached its highest figure, 878,000 pieces, in 1880; the next year it fell off nearly 11 per cent; to 783,000 pieces; and in 1883 we find the import again so high as 840,000 pieces. 'As in the case of Drills, the demand is now for a good article, and as the English are sending better cloth they are selling more, whilst this competition has lessened the consumption of American. In fact, the process is just the reverse of what has been going on in Drills. Fine T-Cloths and 12-lb. Shirtings are also used for the same purpose, and the trade in the latter has much increased of late years.'" Doubtless, as Mr. DREW says, the lowering of the quality of drills by the British manufacturers was by direction of their customers, the native merchants. As far as the former are concerned, they simply make the article required, and no amount of care in the get up could deceive the native wholesale dealer as to the true quality of the article, of which he is as well able to judge as the manufacturer himself. If there be any cheating in the way of palming off the goods for better than they are, the native merchant and retail dealer are the persons who reap the benefit by imposing on the purchasers in the interior. It can scarcely be considered prudent, however, on the part of the manufacturer to yield so far to the wishes of the native merchant as to allow the latter to spoil the market merely for the sake of reaping large profits temporarily. The consumer may be imposed on for a time, but he cannot fail soon to discover the imposition, and then he will act on the maxim "once bitten twice shy." Mr. A. NOVION, the Commissioner of Customs at Chinkiang, says:—"English drills are losing ground owing to their inferior make, their only recommendation being their cheapness. On the other hand, American drills seem likely to increase in favour, as the cost of producing is less and their quality is better than English." And it is not only the competition of American goods but of native cloth also that has to be taken into consideration. Mr. C. LENOX SIMPSON, the Commissioner of Customs at Kiukiang, says:—"The consumption of cotton goods does not appear to increase as much as it ought to do under the influence of cheaper cost; this no doubt arises from the continued partiality of the middle and lower classes for the fabrics of the native looms, owing to the greater durability and warmth of the native made cloth." The Chinese character is such that they will not be satisfied with anything less than an article that will wear well. Size goods seem to have seen the best of their days, and with regard to sheetings, as Mr. DREW points out, the quality is already improving. The natives are, moreover, importing yarn and thread to weave their own cloth, which is satisfactory enough in itself, but it would be more satisfactory to Manchester to weave the cloth as well as spin the yarn. In the year 1870 the import of cotton yarn and thread was 108,000 piculs valued at 2½ millions of taels, and since then the demand has increased steadily each year until the import now stands at 228,000 piculs, valued at 5½ millions of taels. In the current year, Mr. DREW says, the demand appears to be further increasing.

The French gunboat Lutin, Captain Debar, arrived here on Saturday from a cruise.

The Japanese man-of-war Fooso, Captain Ito, with Admiral Matsumara on board, arrived at Woosung on the 18th inst.

The N.C. Daily News states that Captain Fournier will shortly return to France, with the Preliminary Treaty for ratification.

Mr. H. Budler, of the German Consulate, left Amoy on the 14th instant for Shanghai en route to Korea.

The U. S. S. Enterprise, Commander A. S. Barker, with their Excellencies Admiral Davis and the Hon. J. Russell Young on board, left Amoy on the 16th instant for Foochow.

We acknowledge receipt of a reprint, in pamphlet form, from the Japan Mail office, of that journal's report of the Spring Meeting of the Nippon Race Club, held on the 8th, 9th, and 10th May, 1884.

A Japanese paper says the Meteorological Observatory in Tokio contemplates having telegraphic communication thrice a day with those at Manila, Hongkong, Amoy, Peking, and Vladivostock in future.

Amongst the translations from native papers in the Japan Mail we find the following from the Kwampo:—Mr. Jose da S. Loureiro, lately appointed Consul-General for Portugal to Japan, has received the Imperial recognition of H.M. the Mikado, to whom the Minister for Foreign Affairs forwarded the report of Mr. Loureiro's appointment.

There is now in Hongkong harbour an illustration of the tremendous velocity with which a sword fish will propel itself, and the power with which it strikes. The American brig Swan, Capt. Henderson, which arrived here a few days since from the South Sea Islands, was struck on her way hither by one of these fish, and the result of the freak has been disastrous on both sides, especially to the fish, which lost its proboscis, and no doubt its life, while the brig will have to go into dock to repair the damage. It was probably while in chase of its prey that the sword fish ran foul of the vessel, and its proboscis or sword pierced completely through the side, altogether a thickness of about six inches of wood. The sword entered at one of the seams, which it opened to such an extent as to cause a leak which has necessitated frequent pumping out. The proboscis was found to have broken short off at the creature's nose, and adhering to it were ribands of skin which had evidently been stripped off its head and back. Deeming it possible that it might work out, and leave a bad leak, Capt. Henderson had the end projecting outside the ship sawn off, and canvas and copper nailed over it. The proboscis is over an inch in thickness, and there are several people in the colony who are anxious to get possession of it when it is cut out.

His Excellency the Governor has given his assent to the Stamp Ordinance and the Preservation of Birds Amendment Ordinance.

It is notified in the Gazette that the Secretary of State for the Colonies has been pleased to direct the recognition of Don Arturo Satorres as Vice-Consul for Spain at this port.

News arrived in the colony on Saturday afternoon that the Indo-China S. N. Co.'s chartered steamer Ascalon, which left here for Calcutta with the Arratoon Apcar on the 17th inst., had gone ashore, having run upon a rock between here and Singapore.

The steamer Douglas went on a trial trip round the harbour yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of testing the efficacy of the repairs which have been executed by the Dock Company after her recent breakdown near Amoy. After a short run she went alongside the wharf, and will now resume work.

Cholera is reported to have broken out at Yang-tsun, a large town on the highway between Tientsin and Peking. Those who are attacked are said to die in a few hours. It is, we fear, by no means improbable that this may prove a sickly season in the north, owing to the floods which have devastated the country, and the lack of nutritious food that has resulted.—N. C. Daily News.

The Japan Gazette says:—The continued indisposition of his Majesty the Emperor is calculated to create some anxiety. A few days ago the announcement was made that the Mikado had recovered his health, and would soon be able to resume his public duties. This was not, we regret to say, quite accurate, for the Mei Nichi now reports that his Majesty suffers from slight fever and is unable to take his usual exercise.

Mr. J. Melville Matson, the local manager of the Oriental Bank, received the following telegram from London on Saturday:—"New Oriental Bank progressing satisfactorily. Strong support promised. Will wire particulars shortly." News has been received from Shanghai and Yokohama that the project has been very favourably received there, and that at both those places a considerable number of shares of the new Company have been applied for.

The Austrian gunboat Albatross, Captain Wostry, arrived here on Saturday morning from Saigon. She has been on a cruise to various ports in India, and was ordered to China probably in view of the Franco-Chinese difficulty. The Albatross is the first Austrian man-of-war that has visited these waters for many years. She is a neat little craft. The Austro-Hungarian Consul paid her a visit on Saturday morning soon after her arrival.

The Glenogle got a full cargo of tea at Hankow at 35 per ton. She anchored at the Red Buoy at 11 o'clock on the morning of the 26th inst. and was to leave with the evening's tide. She was drawing 25 feet. The Oopack was to leave Hankow on the 20th: her rate and that of the Glenelg, was reduced to £3, at which the latter steamer is fully engaged. The Benalder and Glaisse completed their engagements at £2 10s., and will leave in the order named. The rate for the Port Phillip has been lowered to 30s. per ton.

The charge of fraud against Mr. B. D. Benjamin was further proceeded with in the Police Court at Shanghai on the 19th and 20th inst., and was again adjourned. Witnesses were called for the defence, apparently with the object of proving that the witnesses for the prosecution had misunderstood the accused in certain conversations which were put forward by the prosecution as admissions on his part, and, further, that the goods had not been removed from the godown by the direction or with the knowledge of the accused. Mr. Balfour, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, was recalled and further cross-examined as to Mr. Benjamin's account. The witness said the debit balance on the 31st December was Tls. 733,189, and on the 11th January Tls. 806,904. On the 31st December the Bank bought Mr. Benjamin's draft on Hongkong for $1,068,495 against bank shares released from other banks. The values of the securities held were not sufficient to cover the debit balance.

TSEN YU-YING IN DISGRACE.

An Imperial Decree has been issued in reply to a Memorial from Tsen Yu-ying, Viceroy of the Yun-kuei Provinces, announcing that he has withdrawn his troops from Tonquin and placed them on guard in certain important positions in Yunnan. The Empress is astonished at such flagrant disregard of the Imperial Mandates, and the Viceroy is to be handed over to the Board of Civil Office for the determination of penalty.

PRESENTATION OF AN ADDRESS TO MR. ROMANO, ACTING PORTUGUESE CONSUL.

A deputation consisting of Messrs. V. C. Rocha, J. M. Guedes, L. A. Rozario, F. D. Guedes, C. J. Gonsalves, F. J. V. Jorge, V. Dunenberg, and J. J. de Souza waited on Mr. A. B. Romano at his residence, "The Duart," yesterday morning, to present that gentleman with an address from the Portuguese community praying him to accept the post of Portuguese Consul at this port, which has been offered him by the Lisbon Government. The address, a translation of which we give below, was nicely got up in gold on parchment.

The proceedings were opened by Mr. de Souza, who addressed Mr. Romano in the following terms:—Sr. Commendador Romano, having been charged with the pleasing duty of presenting you with this address, while duly appreciating the honour, I regret that the presentation has not been entrusted to abler hands. I shall, however, endeavour to do my best in the matter. I have little to add to what is already stated in this document, which correctly expresses the feelings of the Portuguese community of Hongkong, every member of which views with the greatest pleasure your resumption of the duties appertaining to the representation of our interests in this Colony. The multifarious duties a Portuguese Consul here has to discharge, owing to the short distance separating Hongkong from Macao, whose Government employs the Consul in this Colony as a financial, commercial, and political agent, render it almost impossible for a merchant, who has little time to spare, to accept the honorary Consulship. It is, therefore, it must be confessed, too much for us to ask you to accept definitively the post which we know has been offered to you, taking also into consideration the fact that even the vote for expenses of representation of the Hongkong Consulate has been struck out of the Macao Estimates. But above all, we appeal to the patriotism which glows in the breast of every true Portuguese, as we know you to be, and hope you will be guided in your decision by a sense of the duty which every man is morally bound to perform towards his country. The address contains nearly two hundred signatures, and I may say, without fear of contradiction, that it is one of the most, if not the most, influential and numerously signed public document ever got up in our community, a fact which must be very gratifying to you, as it assures you of the sympathy and co-operation of your fellow-countrymen in the discharge of your consular duties. With these few words I will now proceed, with your permission, to read the address:—

To Commendador A. G. Romano,
Honorary Member of H. M. F. Majesty's Household,
&c., &c., &c.

We, the undersigned, members of the Portuguese Community of Hongkong, having been officially informed, by a notification published in the Government Gazette, that you have again assumed charge of the Portuguese Consulate in this colony, cannot allow it to pass without availing to you, in a fitting manner, our gratification, as well as our appreciation of your past valuable services in every branch of the Consular Service.

In the important post of Portuguese Consul in Hongkong for a period of 16 years you always upheld the national dignity, identified yourself with the whole of the Portuguese Community, protected Portuguese subjects in distress, and showed yourself zealous and painstaking in the discharge of your Consular duties, giving entire satisfaction to all your countrymen and to all Portuguese public functionaries with whom you have had official intercourse.

These and other services rendered by you have received due recognition and acknowledgement from the Portuguese Government.

Under circumstances which we shall pass over in silence you showed that you know how to maintain your own dignity by resigning your position in the Consular Service, but after a lapse of seven years you again enter the field of your former labours at a moment when no competent person could be found willing to perform the Consular duties, thus giving a proof of your patriotism and of your kindly feelings towards the Portuguese Community, although you have only assumed temporary charge of the Consulate.

Convinced that a more zealous and experienced Consular Official could not be found here, we sincerely hope you will definitely accept a post so congenial to your feelings and that in this your second period of duty in the Portuguese Consular Service your efforts will be crowned with every success and that you will be enabled to render further services to the country which you have already served with so much zeal and ability.—We have the honour to be, Sir, your countrymen and friends,

POLICE COURT.

May 24th.

BEFORE MR. A. G. WISE.

STRAGGLERS.

James Connor, seaman of the British ship Frank Carvill, admitted being a straggler from his ship, and the police were ordered to put him on board.

LARCENY FROM A JUNK.

Ng Akan, seaman, was charged with stealing a bag containing $15.61, 19 pieces of broken silver, and 1,600 cash from a junk.

On Friday afternoon the master of the Man Hop junk, which is lying off the Central Market, went ashore for a few minutes, leaving no one on board his vessel. As he was returning, he saw the defendant leaving the junk with a bag in his hand. He recognised the bag as the one he kept his money in, and which he had left locked up in a box in the hold. He went after the prisoner, and after a good chase, overhauled him in Gough-street, where he handed him to a constable. The prisoner had the spoil in his possession at the time.

The defendant said the complainant asked him to take charge of the junk in his absence, and he did so. He saw the money there, and being afraid it would be stolen, he took possession of it.

Convicted and sent to gaol for a month.

FRAUD.

Choung Asu, boatman, was charged with having obtained about $15 worth of eggs from a shopkeeper on the 23rd inst.

The prisoner was employed on board a junk, and he went to a shop where the junk master had been in the habit of dealing, and obtained the eggs by stating they were for his master, who would pay for them. The complainant, though suspecting the man, supplied him with the eggs, but sent a coolie to follow him, and see what he did with them. It was fortunate he did so, for it saved him from being defrauded. The junk master had not sent the prisoner to get the eggs.

The prisoner was sent to gaol for a month.

FOOCHOW.

H.B.M.'s gunboat Merlin, Commander Brenton, arrived in Foochow on the 11th inst. to relieve H.B.M.'s gunboat Foxhound, which vessel proceeds to Hongkong en route for England, the term of her second commission having expired. We are pleased to learn that it is now definitely arranged that a British gunboat will hereafter be stationed regularly at Foochow.

During the thunderstorm which so suddenly came up and passed over Foochow at about half-past one o'clock on the afternoon of the 8th inst. a Hwai Yuen and an officer of the lskin were standing together on the opposite bank of the river at a place called Ah Mau Chew. The former asserts that he felt himself suddenly removed by some unseen agency, whilst the latter was struck dead—a just punishment, according to the natives, for his sins in the matter of "squeezing." If, however, all such offences were to be similarly visited, the excessive population of China would undoubtedly soon be diminished. In the vicinity of Mamoi, the lightning during the same storm appears to have occasioned the death of five more natives. Upon the commencement of the tempest, a Chinese labourer, who was ploughing a field at Tu Lok Kign ceased his work and, foolishly shouldering his glittering agricultural implement, was returning homeward, when the electric fluid being attracted, he was instantaneously killed. The other deaths occurred at places called Ting Chaw and La Luk, the deceased who met with his death at the former place being a vendor of crockery ware, and the three natives of the latter locality were wandering round in search of employment at the time of the accident.

We regret to learn of the outbreak of cholera in the City, which description of epidemic is unusual at the present season, and was quite unexpected, as there has recently fallen a sufficiency of rain to flush the ill-constructed sewers, whilst the heat has not been excessive, and but little even unripe fruit is at present procurable in the market. We therefore presume that the occasion of the present disease is solely attributable to the personal uncleanliness of the natives, and to bring about a reformation in this respect is of course beyond the power of foreign authorities.

Afteran unusually long immunity from fires of any serious character, which is probably chiefly due to the prohibition of the use of kerosine oil by the natives, we have to record the occurrence of no less than three conflagrations during the past week, two of which were of a most extensive character. At about four o'clock on the morning of the 9th inst., some premises situate near Sing Kang Kiau were discovered on fire, and although every effort was made to prevent the flames from spreading, no less than eighty houses were razed to the ground before the flames could be got under; the damage being estimated at about $4,000. On the following night, a still more serious conflagration occurred in Ah Doo Street, the fire commencing at about half-past ten, and raging fiercely until midnight by which hour no less than one hundred and fifty small tenements were destroyed, and, we regret to add, three lives lost. The origin of the fire is a mystery, although the current report amongst the Chinese is that it was a visitation of Joss, as it appears that the flames were first observable in a dwelling where a coffin containing the body of a woman of ill-fame was deposited awaiting burial. The occupier of the latter house received such severe handling from the infuriated mob, who threatened to take his life as soon as the business of looting had been accomplished, that he considered it advisable to abscond during the excitement. The damage occasioned in the present instance is about $12,000. The third fire occurred on the 8th inst., but was fortunately discovered in time to be quenched before getting sufficient hold upon the premises to occasion any considerable damage.—Herald.

SHANGHAI.

The new Chinese corvette Nan Thin, of which we have already given a brief account in last issue, is a very fine vessel, and has proved herself an excellent sea-going and fast ship. The vessel left Kiel on the 10th March, and arrived in the River Tyne on the 15th, for the purpose of taking in two heavy Armstrong guns; all her other guns are Krupp made. She was detained by the authorities in Newcastle, as the then pending disturbances between China and France led to the impression that a breach of neutrality laws might be committed if the vessel was allowed to depart with the guns on board. The point involved by placing the guns on board having been settled, she left the River Tyne on the 25th March, making her way to the Far East by way of the Suez Canal. In the Canal she received some damage to her propeller; we learn that this was caused by two merchant vessels colliding which were ahead of the Nan Thin; and the latter attempting to back, got aground by her stern; she was docked at Suez and sailed after six days' detention for Singapore, where, after taking in a supply of coals, she sailed direct for Shanghai, making thus the passage from the River Tyne to Woosung in about forty-two days, deducting her detentions. Besides the Captain and four officers she had a private crew on board of sixty men. Half of this number were discharged from the vessel, and they will be sent home in one of the D. D. R. Co.'s steamers: the other half of the crew will be kept on board to repaint the vessel, before she is turned over to the Chinese authorities. This is expected to take place during next week. The Nan Thin is now under the New Dock shears in order to hoist on deck the two Armstrong guns which she took in in the River Tyne and which are stowed in her hold.—Mercury.

Owing to an absurd rumour, the Chinese were under the impression on Saturday, the 17th inst., that there was something wrong with the Chartered Mercantile Bank, and accordingly they handed in their cheques to be cashed, which was done without trouble. A native banker refused to receive one of the Bank's notes as he was under the impression that the Yuh-le Bank had closed its doors.

A cute Chinaman yesterday (19th) put into execution an idea that he had formed on Saturday. When he heard the rumour that something was wrong with the Yuh-le Bank he made enquiries, and finding the bank safe, immediately bought up all the notes he could get at 25 per cent. discount! As there were a number of frightened sellers, he has probably made a good thing of his speculation.

On the 17th inst. we had such weather as is only met with in Shanghai and its neighbourhood. It was, for the time of year, excessively hot; the atmosphere was oppressive in the extreme, not a breath of wind stirring; heavy thunder-clouds overspread the sky, and every now and then a smart shower fell, culminating in a heavy down-pour in the evening. The barometer between six and seven o'clock fell to 29.65. Suddenly, towards daybreak, a violent gale sprang up from the north, and the thermometer fell rapidly. Windows, shutters, and doors banged loudly, and the fitful sound of broken glass showed that a certain amount of damage was being sustained in those houses whose inmates had not seen that their fastenings were secure. Several trees were blown down in the Settlements, and some gas-lamps broken. We fancy that about this time many persons woke up finding themselves considerably colder than when they went to bed. The Keelung, from Swatow, reports as follows:—At 7.30 p.m. on Saturday passed Bonham Light, with light southerly winds and overcast sultry weather; 9.30 abreast of Gutzlaff with thick rain; at 11 p.m. anchored with thick weather, heavy rain, wind, thunder and blinding flashes of lightning till midnight. From then to 1.30 a.m. there was less wind, though frequent rain squalls. This was followed by heavy rain and lightning, which was unaccompanied by thunder. At 3 a.m. the weather moderated and cleared up. The Keelung then proceeded with light breezes from N. to W. and variable. At 5 a.m. there was a strong gale of wind, with rain squalls. The rain-storm does not appear to have passed to seawards much to the North of Shanghai, as the Hacting, which arrived here late last night, reports that beyond a high sea and strong N. W. gale she experienced neither rain nor thunder and lightning. It will be seen by the reports from Zi-ca-wei Observatory that the force of the wind at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 18th was 23.1 miles per hour, while at 4 o'clock in the afternoon it was still as high as 20.6 miles. In the morning the strong wind was accompanied by a dust storm.—N. C. Daily News.

CHINKIANG.

16th May.

His Excellency Tso Tsung-tang and suite arrived in the Chinese gun-vessels Ting Hae and Ching Yuen at 9 p.m. last night from Nanking, and landed this morning at Kwachow; after making a few official visits, he proceeds to Peking by the Grand Canal to-day.

H.B.M. gunboat Espoir, from Kiukiang, passed through at noon without stopping.

The British steamer Pathan, from Shanghai, passed up yesterday for Hankow to load new season teas. This makes the twelfth steamer of the tea fleet which has passed.—Shanghai Mercury.

TIENTSIN.

13th May.

News from Peking is that over thirty memorials have been handed in impeaching Li Hung-chang for having made the treaty with France as he has; no doubt they are all of the War Party and Her Majesty understands the object; so they will be shelved, like all the former memorials.

The three Chinese Ambassadors, Marquess Tseng, Li Hung-pao, and Chen, are to be replaced by others. For the United States, Taotai Cheng of Formosa has been selected.

It is said that Her Majesty's reason for calling Tso to Peking is for him to account to Her Majesty for the events of Tonquin, the responsibility of which rests upon him as much as Ni Yang Tu-ching.

15th May.

Our Chinese of the War Party here do not believe in the peace concluded on Sunday last between France and China, but they say that France applied for an armistice, which they say H.E. Li Hung-chang was pleased to grant.

Captain Fournier intends to leave here by the first steamer; he takes with him a treaty which no doubt is, and will be, to France the greatest satisfaction.—Shanghai Mercury Correspondent.

PEKING.

12th May.

The new members of the Tsung-li Yamên paid their introductory visits on Friday and Saturday to all the foreign Legations. The Beilch I Kuang did not, however, accompany them, being on leave of absence for ten days.

The most ridiculous rumours are abroad here among the Chinese. The first is that, as there is an intercalary fifth moon this year, there is likely to be the fall of a dynasty. This is founded upon the exquisite reason that when the Ming dynasty fell there was an intercalary fifth moon. The second report is that, as a necessary and logical consequence of the red afterglows last year there will be either war or famine. The third is the most startling of all. It is nothing more nor less than that the Emperor T'ung Chih left a son, who is now living out at nurse somewhere in the interior of the country. I have not yet met any body who has seen him, however.

I just hear of the arrival in Peking of Sir Harry Parkes and Herr von Brandt.—N. C. Daily News Correspondent.

The Luther Exhibition in the Grenville Library of the British Museum will soon be replaced by a fresh series of books, manuscripts, and prints relating to John Wickliffe.

FOR NEW YORK.

SNOW-BORN.

With Autumn's latest breath there came a chill
Of brooding sadness, as o'er pleasures dead;
And through the sunless day, with silent trend,
There seemed to pass, o'er vale and wooded hill,
The footsteps of some messenger of ill.
Through forest ways with rustling leaves o'erspread,
The pine boughs whispered low of bodings dread,
And all the air a mystery seemed to fill.
But in the shadows of enfolding night,
From out the bosom of the frosty air,
Fell a baptismal robe of beauty rare;
And when, at kiss of dawn, awoke the earth,
Each leaf and pine-bough, clad in vesture white,
Told of the peaceful hour of Winter's birth.

HENRY R. HOWLAND, in Century.

THE FORTHCOMING CRICKET SEASON IN ENGLAND.

It is often said, as the time of year for cricket to supercede football draws round, that the approaching season promises to be the busiest on record and, considering the great strides in public favour cricket has made, this is generally true. But for real importance to all Englishmen, the season which opens to-day bids fair to outrival all its predecessors. Not only are the purely domestic fixtures as numerous as ever, but a team of American cricketers visits us, and, what is of more interest to cricketers all over the world, there is to be a thorough trial of strength between England and Australia. It is from this last feature that the season of 1884 can claim more than usual attention. No one now needs to be reminded that in 1882 the picked eleven of England were beaten by the Australians, under the leadership of Murdoch, and that although the Hon. Ivo Bligh took a team over to the Colonies in the succeeding winter, the attempt to regain the supremacy partially failed. Once more the Australians have left for England, and this time it is hoped, by playing three distinct matches between the full strength of England and the Colonists, to obtain an indisputable verdict as to the supremacy of one or other of the two countries. The first of these contests takes place at Manchester on July 10; the second at Lord's, on July 21; and the third at Kennington Oval, on August 11. It will thus be seen that the question of the rival merits has not, as in former years, been left to the test of a single meeting late in the season, when the grounds are damp and when a fair trial of strength is frequently impossible. The present arrangement is deserving of every praise, and it only remains for the authorities to fix, if possible, one or two trial matches for the Englishmen, so that they are not handicapped by playing together for the time when they meet the Australians, to completely satisfy all those whose hopes and wishes are enlisted on the side of the mother country.

Besides these three great matches, 24 others have been definitely settled for the Colonists, including two each with the Gentlemen of England, the Players of England, and the North of England, eleven divided among the nine great counties, and one each with the Marylebone Club, Cambridge University, Oxford University, the South of England, I Zingari, Cambridge University Past and Present, and an eleven collected by Lord Sheffield. Such a splendid programme as this has never been arranged before, and though there are several vacant dates our visitors will be wise if, in view of the hard tasks before them, they reserve some considerable portion of their time for rest. Regarding the composition of the team it may be pointed out that nine of those who were here in 1882, are again on their way to England, and that the places previously filled by Massie, Hpran, Garrett, and Jones, are taken by Midwinter, Cooper, Scott, and Alexander. Of these four, Midwinter will be readily remembered as having played for Gloucestershire until last season, and Alexander as a fairly good bowler, who formed one of the 1880 team, and acted as manager, a post he will fill again. Neither Cooper nor Scott has ever been here before. The former is a slow bowler, who has proved very destructive against English batsmen in the colonies; and the latter is a fine batsman, who scored largely in the season just concluded. The team are expected here towards the end of the month.

Of the Philadelphians and their cricketability we know little. They, indeed, acknowledge that the object of their visit is chiefly educational, and so it may be surmised that they will not prove very formidable. They would have been wise to postpone their visit for another year, but as they are coming, such attention as is not monopolised by the Australians and our matches will doubtless be awarded them. The matches are to be mainly with amateur elevens, are exclusively two-day contests, and extend from the middle of May to the end of July.

Turning to purely English cricket, it cannot be said that the fixtures present any striking novelty, but the competition between the great counties, which last year excited so much attention, again promises to be very keen, and the prospects at the two Universities, are more than usually favourable. Nottingham, the champion county of last year, has refused to play Lancashire, on the ground that the latter employs unfair bowlers, and its list of matches is thereby reduced to ten. Although there has been a lot of football at the Trent Bridge Ground this season, the centre portion of the enclosure has been carefully protected, and as the applications to play in the Colts' Match were as numerous as ever, and not one of the old members of the eleven has retired, the chances of Nottingham appear decidedly hopeful. Yorkshire, which some chose to think the champion county last year, has no such scruples as Nottingham with regard to Lancashire, and again engages in home-and-home matches with each of the other great counties. The programme is thus a very long one. Still, with Ulyett, Hall, Bates, Lockwood, Peate, Harrison, Hunter, Mr. Hawke, Mr. Lumb, all available, and Emmett, Grimshaw, and Peel to fall back upon, the county has little to fear from any of its rivals. Bradford, Huddersfield, and Dewsbury will all have a share of the home matches, though the majority will be decided at Sheffield. There will be the annual nine days' cricket at Scarborough at the end of the season.

The Middlesex authorities are still seeking for the long-expected fast bowler, who is to bring the metropolitan county to the top of the tree, and many hope their efforts will be crowned with success. A wicket-keeper, too, is required for those occasions when the Hon. A. Lyttelton is not at liberty. Should these two much-needed men be discovered, the Middlesex batting is so much stronger than that of any other county, that a successful season may safely be predicted. A Colts' Match is to be played at the Orleans' Club Ground, at Fulham, on May 10, but otherwise the fixtures are (save for the encounter with the Australians) the same as last year, when Yorkshire, Nottingham, Surrey, Gloucestershire, and Kent were each met twice. Surrey has again a very long list of matches. Like Yorkshire, it engages in contests with each of the great counties. Leicestershire and Hampshire are again encountered, and though the two matches with Somersetshire and the one with Herts are dropped, single engagements with Norfolk and Essex are substituted. The Australians appear five times at Kennington Oval, and if the ground is in as good condition as last year,—and it looks well—there need be no fear but that suitable wickets will be provided.

Nearly all of that young eleven who played together so brilliantly in the latter part of last season will again be ready to do battle for their county, and it will gladden the hearts of the supporters of Surrey to know that Jones, the fast bowler, has recovered from the illness which rendered him incapable of taking part in a single engagement last summer. Lancashire, having had its list of county opponent narrowed down to five, has lengthened its programme by arranging home-and-home matches with Leicestershire, Somersetshire, and Cheshire on the same benevolent principle that Surrey last season entered into engagements with several minor counties; and it is to be hoped that similarly successful results may accrue. A part of the old Trafford Ground has been returfed so that excellent wickets may be expected for the three occasions upon which the Australians appear in Manchester. Crossland and Watson are again engaged as ground men. Prospects in Derbyshire are much brighter than they have been for some years past. The brilliant manner in which the eleven wound up the previous season will encourage them to further effort. Derbyshire Club and Ground will enter into a series of trial matches, in which young players will be encouraged to display any ability they may possess, and, what is scarcely less important, the pecuniary position of the club is greatly improved. A pavilion is being erected, which will obviate the use of the Grand Stand, and one match will probably be devoted to the benefit of Platts, a professional who has done good service for Derbyshire ever since the county has had an existence.

The improvement which was manifested in Sussex last summer may be expected to continue. Lord Sheffield is still active and liberal in his efforts to raise the status of the county in the cricket world. He has again engaged Alfred Shaw as coach, and doubtless the gratifying results of the Notts professional's previous teaching will be manifested in marked degree, as nearly all the men who did so well last year will again take part in the county's matches. The old fixtures with Gloucestershire, not played since 1878—the first year of the Cheltenham week—are revived, and ought to prove very interesting.

There is no good news from Kent. Mr. E. F. S Tylecote has left the county, and little will be seen of either the Hon. Ivo Bligh or Mr. C. Wilson. Lord Harris will still captain the eleven, and something beneficial may be expected from his influence, but unless the Colt's Match at the beginning of May unearths several good men, the chances of Kent taking a prominent position this season will be remote. The matches with Derbyshire are renewed, after a lapse of two seasons. The Australians and Middlesex will be opposed in the Canterbury week—the same programme as in 1880.

Gloucestershire is likely to be weak in the earlier matches, but there is a prospect of the full strength being got together later on, and Gregg is a fair fast bowler who is expected to do the county some service. The regular season begins unusually early with the match with Yorkshire at Moreton-in-the Marsh. Mr. W. G. Grace has quite recovered from his recent illness.

The loss of Mr. C. T. Studd's services at Cambridge will materially weaken the Light Blues, but eight of last year's eleven will again be ready to play for their University, and in Mr. T. Greatorex and Mr. F. Marchant, who are both in residence, Cambridge receives two of the most promising of last year's schoolboy batsmen. There are also many likely seniors and other freshmen to fill up the vacant places in the eleven, but as yet there is no news of a good bowler who will be badly wanted. Mr. J. E. Studd succeeds his brother as captain, and will be supported by the Hon. M. B. Hawke and Mr. C. W. Wright. No variation is made in the programme of matches save for the encounter with the Australians.

There are more vacancies at Oxford than at the other University, but the class of the freshmen who have gone up is of more than average merit, so Mr. Manley Kemp should have no difficulty in turning out a strong team. Prominent among the new additions to the strength of Oxford, are Messrs. K. J. Key and J. H. Brain from Clifton; Mr. E. H. Buckland from Marlborough; Messrs. Cobb, Ingram, and Ricketts from Winchester; Mr. A. S. Blair from Loretto; and Mr. F. T. Higgins from Westminster. All these have school reputations of a high order, and the Oxford prospects look brighter than for some time past. Immediately after the four trial matches, the Eleven meet the Australians, and the match with Surrey at the Oval is revived after the lapse of a year.

Of the minor counties, Hampshire has arranged home-and-home matches with Kent, Sussex, Surrey, and Somersetshire—a better list of matches than for some years back. Somersetshire also plays Kent, and opposes Lancashire as well, but has a very short programme. Essex, Cheshire, Leicestershire, and Norfolk all promise to be very busy; Hertfordshire, Northamptonshire, Warwickshire, and Suffolk will strive to improve their positions, but Bedfordshire has collapsed through want of support from the county families.

There is little to say at present about the public schools, and doubtless after the production of such a phenomenal lot of good cricketers as came to the front last year, the class of players will temporarily suffer. The performances, however, at the great nurseries of cricket will be keenly watched. At Eton and Clifton the prospects are not encouraging, but at Rugby and Charterhouse there will be a considerable amount of old material to work upon. Altogether the season will possess so many points of interest as to be almost bewildering, but, doubtless, despite its crowded programme, 1884 will make a history itself memorable in the annals of the game.—Globe.

A WISE DOCTOR.

A witty physician in Paris, being called to attend a very pretty actress, after duly feeling her pulse and looking at her tongue, pronounced that marriage was the only cure. "You are single, are you not, my dear doctor?" she asked. "Yes, madam; but the doctors only prescribe remedies—they do not take them," was the rejoinder.

MELTING ENGLISH SOVEREIGNS IN THE EAST.

The recent official report upon the trade and industry of British Burmah incidentally throws some light upon the question of what becomes of the British gold coin exported to the East. It is stated that most of the gold used by the Burmese goldsmiths is obtained by melting English sovereigns. These are, we presume, in favour because their weight and fineness are officially certified, and further, because our Mint, unlike the mints of other countries, exacts no seignorage—that is to say, it performs its functions absolutely gratuitously, even to the extent of charging nothing for the copper alloy which renders the metal more fit for working. Obviously our rather generous Mint regulations are based on the assumption that the coin is to be used as coin; but it appears that in Burmah at least it is very extensively melted down for other purposes. It is stated in the report that there are in British Burmah alone more than 7,000 artificers in gold and silver, and that so great is the passion of the Burmese for the objects of luxury and the articles of personal adornment which they produce that every village in the country larger than a hamlet has its gold and silversmith.
